View the object storage group and users

The User Management list displays the object storage users and groups for a specified subtenant.

Steps

1. From the menu, select Object Storage > Users.
2. Use the Subtenant drop-down menu to select another subtenant if required.
3. Use the Users and Groups links to toggle the display between users and groups.
 - The Users list displays the object storage users defined for the selected subtenant. For each user, it displays their name and the object storage groups to which they belong.
 - The Groups list displays the object storage groups defined for the selected subtenant. For each group, it displays the group name and S3 policy.

For more information about how to use the features of a list, see List view.
